Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy

Introduction

There are legal and moral responsibilities on all of us to protect under eighteen year-olds and vulnerable adults connected with our organisation from harm.

Why is this Process Necessary?

Everything possible should be done to help prevent physical, sexual and emotional abuse of children and vulnerable adults who are in the care of the organisation, including where outsiders and other young people may be involved.

This whole issue may be seen by some as “over the top” and indeed we should always be wary of overprotecting children and vulnerable adults. However, the consequences to all concerned in the event of even an alleged incident can obviously be extremely serious and cannot be overstated.

By following simple guidelines, such as those outlined here, members should be able to avoid any possibility that they could be accused of behaving inappropriately. It has previously been a mandatory requirement of our Public Liability Insurance provider that all clubs affiliated to the Association, have a Child and Young Person Protection Policy and most organisations that we deal with also require us to be able to demonstrate that we have a system for protecting children and vulnerable adults.

Our current provider also requires the following for indemnity for abuse allegations:

Any indemnity shall be conditional upon compliance with the following guidelines set out in Making Music’s Safeguarding document

- 1. Two written references to be obtained detailing any previous work carried out by persons involved with children or vulnerable adults.*
- 2. A formal interview to be conducted to assess the commitment of such persons mentioned in 1 above to maintaining the safety and well-being of children and vulnerable adults.*
- 3. Undertaking a disclosure check of such persons mentioned in 1 above with the Disclosure and Barring Service (England, Northern Ireland and Wales) or if in Scotland ensure that they are a member of the Protecting vulnerable Groups scheme.*
- 4. Having and adhering to a written abuse policy incorporating roles and responsibilities and procedures which includes appropriate risk assessments being undertaken and guidelines followed.’*

Supervision

Making arrangements for the proper supervision of children and vulnerable adults is one of the most effective ways of minimising opportunities for children and vulnerable adults to suffer harm of any kind whilst in our care.

Planned Activities

Organisers are responsible for the welfare and safety of the children and vulnerable adults for the whole time they are away from home unless other arrangements are made with parents.

Children and vulnerable adult should not usually be left to their own devices in, for example, a town for the evening or shopping expeditions unless there are clear boundaries and arrangements for meeting up.

All children and vulnerable adults should be adequately supervised at all times.

Organisers should obtain, in writing, parental consent to children and vulnerable adults joining an organised trip.

Parents should be given full information about a trip, including details of the programme of events, the activities in which the children and vulnerable adults will be engaged and the supervision ratios.

Supervision of Children and vulnerable Adults

The Designated Person must be satisfied that those workers and adults who accompany group parties are fully competent to do so and that appropriate checks have been made.

Children and vulnerable adults must be supervised at all times, preferably by two or more adults.

Children and vulnerable adults must not be left unsupervised at any venue whether it be indoors or out.

Designated People should know at all times where children and vulnerable adults are and what they are doing.

Any activity using potentially dangerous equipment should have constant adult supervision.

Dangerous behaviour by children and vulnerable adults should not be allowed.

Designated Person

General

Every Club where there is any likelihood of members coming into close contact with children or young persons should designate a person or persons to be responsible for dealing with any concerns about the protection of children or vulnerable adults.

The appointment of a deputy is strongly recommended to cover absences. The person so designated should be DBS checked for dealing with children or vulnerable adults and, along with others having contact with children or vulnerable adults, should complete a Declaration Form.

The Club's child/vulnerable adult protection policy and procedures should include the name of this person, their role and responsibilities and how they can be contacted. In particular, children or vulnerable adult should know that this is the person to whom any concerns should be brought.

The person designated should ensure that they are knowledgeable about child/vulnerable adult protection and that they undertake any training, considered necessary, to keep themselves updated on new developments.

A Designated Person will also be appointed for BABS events involving more than one club such as Harmony College.

Role

The role of the designated person is to:

- * provide information and advice on child/vulnerable adult protection within the Club.
- * ensure that the Club's policy and procedures are implemented and followed and particularly to inform NSPCC Helpline (0808 800 5000) of relevant concerns about individual children or vulnerable adults.
- * keep relevant people within the Club, particularly the Chairman of the Club and the Administration Director of BABS, informed about any action taken and any further action required, for example, disciplinary action against a member/s.
- * ensure that an individual case record is maintained of the action taken by the Club, the liaison with other agencies and the outcome
- * advise the Club of child/vulnerable adult protection training needs

Responsibility

The designated person is responsible for acting as a source of advice on child/vulnerable adult protection matters, for co-ordinating action within the club and for liaising with other agencies about suspected or actual cases of abuse. They may also be responsible for implementing child/vulnerable adult protection training within the club.
